EXPERIENCE

● Graphic Designer, Western Sign & Awning Company

2017 - Present

My first job in the States was at a Sign and Awning company where we manufacture and install large sign projects for medical, education and shopping centers. My responsibilities were following progress of the projects, respond to clients's requests and help them in legal processing. Our wide range of work included from small interior/exterior signs or directory to drive-way monument and even freeway pylon.

● Product Operator & Sale Assistant, TVM comic

2011- 2013

The job was in a comic publisher, we took care of the whole production process, quality check and packaging. I gained knowledge in printing process and retail marketplace during this time.

● Graphic Editor, TVM comic

2013 - 2014

The first job I got after graduation, the same company I worked in high school, but in different position. My daily tasks were editing graphic from Japanese into Vietnamese edition, and making sure it's aligned with Japanese Publisher's qualifications.

● Freelancer

2016 - Present

After moving to the United States, I started working as a freelance web designer with my old clients. I also gained my Muse knowledge here and started to work in both layout and html.

● Graphic Designer, Lazada VN

2014 - 2016

I moved to the next company, Lazada Vietnam. It was the biggest e-commerce company in the business, which has regional of 6 Southeast Asia countries. During this time I got many chances to learn and improve my professional, not only in technical, but also in team work and workmanagement, adapted multi cultural as it was an international work place.

EDUCATION

Arena Multimedia, Film & Web design

September 2012 - May 2014

I studied Film & Web Design in Arena Multimedia Center. This was where I became a designer and started working as a creative professional. The course only lasted one year and a half but I learned much more than I had ever done in my life, as all my professors were the most successful people in the business.
